

The amazingly large sum of money contributed to Little Marilyn Mazzurco in San Jose demonstrates the generosity of adults when their interest and sympathy are aroused. It is always easier to take an interest in one specific person than in an impersonal group but last Tuesday evening a group of local men and women met at the High School with the intention of arousing interest in the youth of the community as a whole.

Present at the meeting were representatives of clubs and organizations, high school principals, members of the Youth Council, an interested minister, boy scout workers and teachers. LBen Howard, chairman of the meeting, discussed the fact that Campbell has no central "clearing house" or method of co-ordinating activities. After a great deal of discussion concerning the lack of recreational facilities here, the group decided to form as a motivating and co-ordinating group with these objectives: (1) leadership procurement for existing or new groups; (2) the promotion of recreation for all age levels; (3) the promotion of community projects; (4) the creation of centers of activity; and (5) service as a clearing house for community projects.

It was the consensus of opinion that a year-round, part-time worker would be necessary to carry out the objectives if they are to be well done. To supplement the $1000 allotted each year from the community chest for youth work, it was felt that money making projects could be carried on in which both the youth of the community and the adults could work together.

The sincere endeavors of this group of people and others interested can only be carried out if the community as a whole takes an interest and cooperates. If we could all work together on a common project, such as the building of a swimming pool, we would have more of a feeling of coordination. Such an undertaking would be a means of unifying our adults and youths and lead to greater understanding of community recreational needs.

As I have said before in this column, the Cambrian district has set an example in youth activities which we could all follow. It has been done, though, not by donations or one or two people but by the whole group WORKING together on projects that really take WORK.

At the same meeting Laurence Hill, High School principal, told of the need for a donation from the youth council for something special at Santa Cruz. Seems he felt there must be something that could be done to help control the bedlam which takes place at Santa Cruz each Easter vacation so he had a talk with the students who were planning to go and found out that, while they would be busy and occupied outdoors all day, they had no recreational facilities for the evening.

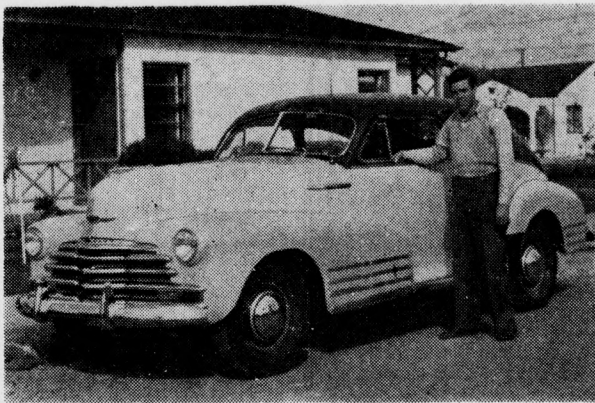

A conference with two other high school principals in San Jose resulted in the brilliant idea of moving the San Jose Hi Spot to Santa Cruz for the week-end. The students were delighted with this idea and readily bought memberships in the organization. Naturally there were considerable expenses connected with this project but the youth council didn't hesitate in giving Mr. Hill a donation. The rest of the $100, which was his share of the expenses, came from interested people who considered the idea a good one.

In addition to providing wholesome recreation at the beach, the idea might take hold with our Campbell students and they might want such a place of their own in Campbell enough to work for it and make the rest of us work for it.

VISITS FROM KANSAS

Mrs. Nora McCord has as her guest her daughter, Mrs. Jessie Miller of Hays, Kansas. In honor of the visitor Mrs. Jack Murdock entertained at luncheon yesterday. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gus Lamb of Colorado, Mrs. Jack Driscoll of San Francisco and Elmo Zeigler.

A Gift From Uncle Sam

Doyle Richey and his new Fleetline Chevrolet

The first "amputee" car to arrive for a Campbell man came Monday for Doyle Richey of Walters Road. It was a free gift from Uncle Sam, costing Richey only the price of the registration papers and a leg lost in Germany.

The ex-soldier is delighted with his tan and green Chevrolet complete with radio and says he feels "awfully sorry for the fellows who lost a hand and aren't eligible for the gift."

Richey hails originally from Texas and he has a slow soft-spoken drawl and a cheerful grin. Shortly before the war he and his family moved to Campbell. In 1941 he started his three and a half year hitch, emerging a staff sergeant. After more than a year's training in this country he was sent to Ireland for six months before landing in France 28 days after D-Day.

During that fighting he received a mortar shell through his left hand and was sent back to England for three months' hospitalization. After recovering he was taken immediately to rejoin his division, the 8th Infantry, at Lyon and then through Brest and Luxembourg to the Hurtken Forest in Germany when he stepped on an "S" mine while on night patrol. His left foot was blown completely off and 43 pieces of steel lodged in various parts of his anatomy.

The next part of Richey's story is not very pleasant for it involved an overcrowded hospital in Paris, a delayed flight to England, two amputations and 14 operations.

Just before his injury, he received news that his brother, a member of the air-borne division, was killed in action in Holland. After a year spent in various U.S. Army hospitals he was released to return to Campbell. Before his discharge he married the former Louise Lane and together with their nine-months old son, Denny Neal, they make their home with Richey's mother, Mrs. Rosie Richey, on Walters Road. There are two small brothers, too, who were fortunately too young for the war. Nearing completion in Santa Clara is a new house for the young veteran and his family.

Richey is employed at the Brand Furniture and Appliance Store on Winchester Road. He was delivering some scooters there one day for the Saratoga firm for which he worked and found to his amazement that Jimmy Brand, who served in the artillery, had followed closely on his footsteps all over Europe. It's only natural that they do quite a bit of reminiscing when business isn't too pressing.

School Names Needed

William Henley, principal of the Campbell Grammar School, announces that a committee has been appointed by the school board to select names for the two new schools to be constructed in the district soon. One will be built on Moorpark Ave. and the other between Pollard and Allendale.

The committee named by the trustees consists of W. R. Porter, Walter Williams, Herbert Shadle, Mrs. Anna Pfeffer, Miss Dorothy Merriman, William Henley and one additional member to be selected from the Southern district.

Suggestions for names will be welcomed by any committee member, according to Henley, and it is hoped that many will be received. The new schools will not be completed by the beginning of next school year and it will be necessary to operate the present schools either on a double schedule or half-days since a 90 percent overload is anticipated. School trustees hope that they will be finished by the middle of the year.

Easter Vacation Starts Monday

On Monday students and teachers alike will have a week's respite from the schoolroom. For more than 250 Campbell High School students, the Easter vacation will mean a week at Santa Cruz which is anticipated all year.

High School students from as far away as Sacramento will join the 'teen age throng which annually takes over the seaside resort town.

For the grammar school students the week's activities will center around preparations for Easter Sunday.

Classes will be resumed on Monday, April 7.

American Trust Says 'No Bank'

Ira Grim, Chamber of Commerce president, has received an answer from the American Trust Bank in San Francisco to the letter signed by more than forty members of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce requesting a branch bank here.

The request was politely denied although bank officials said they could understand the local residents' plea. The letter said, however, "We do not feel that we can consider the opening of a new office in your city at the present time because of the policy recently adopted by our Directors providing for the curtailment of further expansion until the several new offices already approved have been opened."

Campbell Gets New Drug Store

Opening today is the Aero Pharmacy on Winchester Road between the Kopper Kettle and Brands Furniture Store. Owner of the new business is R. J. Salice who attended the Campbell Grammar School as a child and grew up near here. Salice has been re-decorating and stocking his store since October and reports that it now contains the latest in fixtures and equipment as well as a complete stock of drugs, baby supplies, sundries, ice cream, magazines and soft drinks. He will specialize in prescriptions and is a registered pharmacist.

During the war, the new drugist served in the Medical Corps of the Army and was stationed in Tennessee and North Carolina. He has managed several drug stores in the Bay area.

For the gala opening of his store, Mr. Salice is giving chances on prizes and free gifts to children accompanied by their parents.

Campbell Court Notes

By Judge Blaine

Juveniles with BB guns broke 13 window panes in our Public Library in one shooting spree, and since then have broken more.

The same or other BB gunmen have been shooting out light bulbs down at our lighted tennis courts. Replacement here is not simply a matter of screwing out the broken and screwing in others. For the sockets tend to fuse, which may mean a repair job by an electrician.

Perhaps small boys with BB guns have been a headache in this community long enough. They have been shooting out our street lights for years, and breaking window panes in private houses and causing neighborhood rows.

Here is an appeal to reason. What are BB guns for? Target practice soon grows stale. The boys want to see something happen, something dramatic. The breaking of a window or a light bulb provides a momentary thrill and is only human, juvenily speaking.

In a book on archery the writer, a medical man, advised against letting children of grammar school age have any playthings that shot. He had often repaired the children themselves. He mentioned pulling the same dart out of three children of the same neighborhood in the same day.

No use to suggest that children should have better sense. They weave their bicycles back and forth over the roads and ride on sidewalks right in the busiest part of town. They walk by preference through ponds and play by preference in mud puddles. There are times when and where to expect children to have sense just isn't sensible.

It would be sensible for parents not to let their small children have things that shoot, except under adult supervision. It might be sensible for merchants not to sell BB guns or their ammunition—sensible and in fact sort of super-sensible, as with not selling fireworks.

Not even the small children of Adam and Eve could have been trusted with warlike playthings. And if ever we have a return of Paradise on earth, it will be through the intelligence of adults. Relatively speaking, the happy state suggested isn't as impossible as might be thought.

CROWD ATTENDS BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

A large number of people attended the first anniversary of the Maderis Market last Saturday, enjoying the free samples, the prizes and the fresh gardenias. Much interest was shown in the half-hour drawings which gave the lucky winners a large basket of groceries.

Dear Editor:

By the handing over of a piece of paper, the deeds of certain property, one of the last benevolent acts of probably Campbell's most outstanding citizen, culminated on a recent evening at Legion hall.

I am speaking of my great friend and yours—the late Nick Hedegard. He was a man of exceptional ability, great foresight, and dependability. He was a friend of all who would accept his friendship, whether rich or poor. His sunny disposition and smiling face which lit up with a special radiance when conversing on any subject beneficial to the community he loved, enshrined him in the hearts of all. Even in his later years when he endured physical suffering, he was always ready to greet one and all with a smile, either in the street or in his home. I do not think I shall be contradicted when I state that no man has done so much for the development of Campbell.

He was criticized, ridiculed, and sometimes slandered, but such treatment only increased his efforts for the public welfare.

If no other monument to his greatness is forthcoming, the splendid Campbell schools in the erection of which he devoted so many years of his life will ever remain as a reminder of his unselfish devotion to the community.

In his last moments he was greatly troubled because in the whole area he could not find a single individual who would carry on the work which he was unable to complete.

Now Mrs. Hedegard is presenting the deeds of property to the American Legion for a project which had his consideration for some years.

In erecting the building the American Legion should keep in mind certain fundamentals. The foundation should be of sufficient strength and durability to resist the ravages of time. They should sustain the structure in a safe manner for the years to come. This should ever remind the builders of the benefactor who has so well laid the foundations of a Better Campbell.

As each brick is laid in its proper place, it should be borne in mind that one man alone cannot erect a building, neither can one man alone build up a progressive community. Many must do their share of the task and be certain that such work is done satisfactorily, so that others following can carry on where their predecessors leave off, until the whole building is completed to the satisfaction of all.

To you men of the American Legion, I appeal to you—yes, I implore you to take up your burdens without delay. It is not sufficient for you to occasionally attend Legion meetings. There is a much larger field than that for you to operate in. Every one—man or woman—is needed to work for the common good.

To you men of advancing years: may I remind you that you have much to do in a limited time. Do not waste precious moments. Perhaps your community duties and obligations may call for some sacrifice, but give this ungrudgingly, following the example of Mr. Hedegard.

To you younger men: The life before you is what you can make it. You can build up a better Campbell for the benefit of your children and the coming generations. Do not sit still waiting for others to do the work. If you will only set the example you will find many coming to your assistance.

In conclusion, try to follow the example of your benefactor, never shirking work even though it may be unpleasant. Nothing is impossible if you have determination. Then in years which I hope may be far distant, you will be able to look around at the many added improvements, structural, physical and moral, and in your declining years confidently repeat the old phrase—"Thank God I have done my duty."

To our beloved friend, Nick, I can only say "Thanks, chum." May your spirit ever hover over us, spurring us to great efforts to carry on and complete your great work."

REST IN PEACE.
Geo. E. Arltidge.

The company wants to be fair—fair to the employees, fair to the public who buy the service, and fair to those who invest in the business. We believe that the present contracts, which we are willing to renew, are fair, but since there is a difference of opinion between the company and the unions and believing it to be in the public interest we have made this offer to arbitrate.

Moreland Notes

Students from Moreland seventh and eighth grades will participate in an elimination spelling bee to be held in the near future. Exact time and place of the contest has not been designated by the County Superintendent as yet.

Pacific Coast Builders of San Francisco, low bidder for the new school at Moreland, began operations last week. The area has been fenced off and full scale activities are expected to begin this week.

Members of the Industrial Arts class are very proud of themselves these days. The boys have completed the Fall project assigned to them by the County Director.

This project included sanding, varnishing and finishing plaques of wood, then modeling figures in copper, which was then tacked onto the finished plaques.

Harold Hughes' work was chosen as the best because of the careful workmanship spent on its construction.

MOTORISTS WARNED ON TOW CAR RACKET

Motorists traveling in or through California's mountain winter resort areas are cautioned by the California State Automobile Association to be on guard against roving tow car operators who accost drivers in trouble and offer assistance, only to charge exorbitant rates for any service rendered. These tow car operators make a practice of following apparently inexperienced drivers, to be on hand in case they experience difficulty in snow or slush or on icy surfaces.

Any motorist who chooses to engage the service of one of these cruising tow car operators should insist on knowing in advance exactly what the charge will be, the AAA advises.

State Fair Plans Program

Thirty-two counties have given definite indications they will place exhibits of their agricultural and other products at the 1947 California State Fair, to be held in Sacramento August 28 through September 7. Fair directors were told at their March meeting here.

In addition, nine more have made inquiries regarding exhibits, Kenneth Fry, exhibit supervisor, said. The largest number of counties to exhibit at the Fair in its 88 years was 29, in 1941 when the last Fair was held. None have been held since then due to the war. Fred H. Bixby of Long Beach, Fair president, announced committees for the 1947 show, with every director being named a chairman of at least one committee. W. S. Hillis of Madera heads two, finance and legislative. Renovating and improvement of the grounds is progressing satisfactorily, William Epperson, superintendent of grounds, reported. Most of this work is confined to painting, flooring and general refinishing.

VETS ACTIVITIES CONSOLIDATED

All activities of the U.S. Veterans Administration are now consolidated at 439 South First street, San Jose. Office hours are now 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. This office provides counseling, education and insurance service for all veterans. Veterans who have allowed their insurance to lapse, may still reinstate their GI insurance without a medical examination. This may be done by paying only two monthly premiums and submitting a statement of good health. Ex-GI's who did not have insurance while in service are still eligible to apply for this low cost government protection. They have their choice of life and endowment plans. Additional protection paying as much as $50 per month for total disability may also be attached to any policy, old or new.

Prayer and Action

The prayer of the Christian that the heavenly Father hears must be made in faith, James 1:5-8, and faith comes by hearing the Word of God, Romans 10:17. To thus hear means to heed the Word of God, and His word to be heeded is found in the Bible. Prayer must also be according to God's will, and God's will for us is found in what He has spoken through His son, Jesus Christ. Hebrews 1:1-2, which of course is found in the New Testament part of the Bible.

Items for which we may pray but for which there must be action to obtain are as follows: 1. That God's will may be done, Matthew 7:21-27, and help others to do it, Matthew 5:19-20. 2. For daily bread, Matthew 6:11. But we must also work to get it, Ephesians 4:28; 2 Corinthians 9:8-10; 2 Thessalonians 3:10. 3. The Lord to forgive us, Matthew 6:12. But we must also forgive our brother who sins against us, Matthew 6:12-14; 15; Matthew 18:21-25. 4. To be delivered from evil, Matthew 6:14. But we must shun the appearance of evil, 1 Thessalonians 5:22. 5. For the restoration of health, James 5:13. But Jesus also teaches the need of a physician, Matthew 9:12. 6. That men may be saved, Romans 10:1. But the gospel must be preached and men must obey it if they are to be saved, Mark 16:15-16; Acts 2:40; Hebrews 5:8-9.

Why Christians should pray for that for which they must also work is not understood or seen, but we walk by faith and not by sight, 2 Corinthians 5:7, and the secret things belong to God, Deuteronomy 29:29.

Good Friday Observance Asked

Reverend Granam, general chairman of the San Jose committee for the Reverent Observance of Good Friday, today expressed a desire that all neighboring cities and communities in Santa Clara County join with San Jose in observing Good Friday, which comes on April 4 this year.

Granam's committee, which is composed of laymen from churches of all denominations, has already made plans to have as many business establishments, offices, and organizations as possible voluntarily close or permit their employees to attend church services on Good Friday between 12 noon and 3 p.m.

"It is the sincere desire of our committee that all residents and workers in San Jose will take an active part in this program. We feel assured of the full cooperation of all merchants and professional men," stated Granam.

"An excellent response was made last year by the people of San Jose, and we are looking forward to an even more extensive observance this year. Services in the many churches will be announced soon so that everyone may find a place of worship."

Meanwhile Russell E. Pettit, secretary of the San Jose Chamber of Commerce which is directly responsible for the large yearly Good Friday observance turnout in San Jose, indicated that his office will make available placards and posters to any cities or groups wishing to similarly observe Good Friday.

ENJOY SKATING PARTY
Last Friday members of the Carol Choir of the Methodist church enjoyed a skating party at Rollerland in San Jose. Escorting the group were Mr. and Mrs. John Stoner, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Lloyd, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murdock and Mrs. A. C. Miller.

U.N. Facts and Faces ARGENTINA

The Republic of Argentina is 1,084,935 square miles in area and has a population of 14,130,000. Occupying the greater part of southern South America, Argentina extends 2300 miles from Bolivia in the north to Cape Horn in the South, bordering Uruguay and the Atlantic Ocean in the east, Brazil and Paraguay in the north and Chile in the west. Argentina is a great producer of agricultural and livestock products. Her capital is Buenos Aires, the largest city in South America, and her president is Juan Domingo Peron. She is represented in the General Assembly of the United Nations by Dr. José Arce. Her flag is made up of two light blue horizontal stripes, between which is a white stripe emblazoned with a yellow sun.

WESTERN VETS BORROW MORE

Veterans in California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii are borrowing more money through G.I. loans than the average ex-serviceman throughout the nation.

This is borne out by figures disclosed today by Arnold A. Wilken, Veterans Administration Branch 12 loan guarantee supervisor.

At the end of February, 68,059 veterans in the Branch 12 area had borrowed $492,093,595 for homes, ment has insured or guaranteed $226,759,541 of this total amount.

This exceeds the total loaned under the G. I. Bill in any of the 12 other branch areas of the Veterans Administration, Wilken said.

Average loan made in this area is almost $2000 higher than the national figure. In the Branch 12 area the average amount borrowed for homes is $7560, whereas throughout the nation it is $5615. In northern California the average is $7535.

SILBERBAUERS ENTERTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Silberbauer have as their guests, Mrs. Silberbauer's sister-in-law, Mrs. Don Sullivan of Grass Valley, and her small daughter, Kathleen.

On Saturday the Silberbauers will leave for a week's vacation in Hollywood.

REAL ESTATE OFFICE BEING BUILT

The new structure going up so quickly on the corner of Hamilton and San Jose-Los Gatos Road is an office for the Walters Real Estate Co.

The contrast is accounted for not only by the difference in price levels of homes in various areas but by differences in lending practices, according to Mr. Wilken.

CAMPBELL MAN WINS CHESS GAME

Campbell may well be proud of E. H. Mueller of Redding Road, who has the distinction of being one out of the 30 who won a game from the champion chess player, O. Ulvestad, in the recent Simultaneous Chess Exhibition at Harts. In this exhibition Ulvestad played 30 opponents at once.

Mueller, playing the black men at board No. 18, played an exceptionally strong game and Ulvestad was forced to concede that he had lost on the 26th move. The champion was surprised and pleased at the general high calibre of the games and complimented the local players, stating that this had been the strongest opposition he had encountered on his present tour.

Mueller will undoubtedly be invited to play when he returns for another match in which he will give 20 players the choice of men and choice of openings and will also play the type of defense that they want him to play. This is a very difficult undertaking and is only offered to better players.

STUDENTS TO CHECK HOUSE NUMBERS

The correct numbering of houses to facilitate mail delivery will gain impetus this week when students from the local high school make a house to house canvass to check present numbers against the chart drawn up by the County Planning Commission.

This chart was corrected and filled out by Ira Grim who was assisted voluntarily by Homer Hyde of the Campbell Water Co.

Laurance Hill, principal of the Campbell Union High School, volunteered the services of a group of boys to check each house. If residents are in doubt as to the correct number, the boy who is calling will have it.

In the event householders are not at home at the time of the call, the correct number will be left at the house.

Local residents are asked to cooperate in this necessary project.

ENTERTAINS FRATERNITY

Jack Murdock was host last evening at his Central Ave. home to the weekly meeting of his fraternity, Kappa Alpha Pi.

STUDENTS GO SOUTH

Miss Eva May Lobrovich and Miss Patty Whitmore will spend their Easter vacation in Long Beach as guests of Miss Whitmore's uncle, Ralph Fulton.
